PATENT

ABSTRACT

A high-surface-area heterogenite ( $HCoO_2$ ) material is described for use in making submicron cobalt metal powders. The  $HCoO_2$  material has a surface area of at least about 90 m<sup>2</sup>/g and is preferably produced by dehydrating a cobalt hydroxide precipitate at 110°C.

10

real deal from the first from the first three first th